“TODAY “IS THE DAY

(adapted from Scott Hahn’s newsletter)

Now is the age between our Lord’s first coming and His last. We live in the new world begun by His life, death, Resurrection, Ascension, and the sending of His Spirit upon the Church. But we await the day when He will come again in glory.

“Lo, the day is coming,” Malachi warns in today’s First Reading. The prophets taught Israel to look for the Day of the Lord, when He would gather the nations for judgment.

Jesus anticipates this day in today’s Gospel. He cautions us not to be deceived by those claiming “the time has come.” Such deception is the background also for today’s Epistle.

The signs Jesus gives His Apostles seem to already have come to pass in the New Testament. In Acts, the Epistles, and Revelation, we read of famines, earthquakes, and the Temple’s desolation. We read of persecutions—believers imprisoned and put to death, testifying to their faith with wisdom in the Spirit.

We see these signs still in play today. These “signs,” then, show us the pattern for the Church’s life—both in the New Testament and now.

We too live in a world of nations and kingdoms at war. We need to take the Apostles as our “models,” as today’s Epistle counsels. Like them we must persevere in the face of unbelieving relatives, friends, forces, and authorities hostile to God. We need to embody and radiate the love and mercy of Jesus Christ and the power of the Holy Spirit, who dwells in us through our baptism and Confirmation, even to our enemies.

As we do in today’s Psalm, we should sing His praises and joyfully proclaim His coming as Lord and King. The Day of the Lord is always a day that has already come and a day still yet to come. It is the “today” of our Liturgy.

The Apostles prayed marana tha — “O Lord come!” In the Eucharist He answers, coming again as the Lord of Hosts and the Sun of Justice with its healing rays. It is a mighty sign—and a pledge of that Day to come.

God bless!
Deacon. Kent

PASTORAL COUNCIL ITEM FOR YOU.

+ Please ask the Holy Spirit every day for the courage and the words to pray with, not just for, someone each day.
+ This is a very practical way we can share the love of God with our neighbor, friends, family and even strangers if the Lord puts it on your heart. It's how a disciple brings Christ out of Mass into their world. Just takes some humility.
